Please remember that our eyes and ears will be present at all of these selection trials. We will be evaluating not only your riding performance but also your horsemanship skills and your general attitude. In order to be part of a successful team you must be a team player. The way you treat your horse and others around you are very important to us.

It is very important to plan your schedule as early as possible and give yourselves ample opportunities to qualify for the NAJYRCs. When the time comes you don't want to be caught off guard. We will be posting the 2008 selection process and the 2008 qualifications on the Area II website (www.usea2.net) as soon as it is approved.

If there are any questions about this please feel free to contact either Audrey or myself.
